NEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL BUILDING

School Building Commission Report

Old Orchard, Maine,

Feb. 10, 1925.

To the Citizens of Old Orchard:—

At the Annual Town Meeting of 1924 and under Article 49, it was voted to accept the report of the School Committee and to build a new school building. Under Article 51 it was voted to raise the sum of $40,000, for the purpose of constructing a new school building and authorize the issue of its bonds of the aggregate principal amount of $40,000; said bonds to be dated July 1, 1924, to bear interest at a rate not exceeding 5 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, said bonds to mature as follows: $2000. principal amount of said bonds to be payable on the first day of July in each of the years 1925 to 1945 inclusive; interest coupons attached to be payable July 1st and January 1st of each year. Principal and interest payable at Fidelity Trust Co., Portland, Me. Said bonds shall be signed by the Selectmen and Treasurer and coupons thereof shall be by the facsimile signature of the Treasurer. The rate not exceeding 5 per cent. per annum and other particulars as to form, denomination, issuance and sale of bonds are to be determined by the Selectmen. Said bonds shall be designated School Construction Bonds. A School Building Commission was elected consisting of the three members of the Board of Selectmen (Fred I. Luce, Frank H. Libby and Henry F. Worcester) W. Warren Harmon, and the three members of the School Board (Charles A. Dolbier, Clyde R. L. Snow and Nellie L. Guilford.)

The School Building Commission organized with W. Warren Harmon as Chairman and F. H. B. Heald, Supt. of Schools as Secretary ex-officio. The firm of Miller and Mayo, Architects, Portland, Me., was engaged to prepare plans and specifications and to Supervise the construction of the building. It was the desire of the Commission to build of brick and steel if the funds available would permit. Plans and specifications were submitted to the general contractors for a bid on a brick and steel construction, stucco and steel, and a wooden building. On June 2, 1924, sealed bids were opened at the Town Hall from ten general contractors. Contracts were awarded the following who were the lowest bidders:

General Construction, F. L. Emmons & Co., Biddeford
 Heating and Ventilating, Willey and Calhoun, Portland
 Plumbing, Scribner and Iverson, Portland
 Lighting, Harmon Bros., Old Orchard

The excavating for the new building began June 7th and the building was completed and dedicated on December 1st, 1924. It should comfortably take care of the needs of our first six grades of our school system for several years to come. Nothing has been omitted that will insure the comfort and health of our children.

The Commission herewith submits a financial report of receipts and expenditures.

Library Report

To the Citizens of Old Orchard:

The Trustees of the Free Public Library present herewith the several reports of the officers for the fiscal year.

Comparing last year's report of the Librarian with this, it will readily be seen that more people are making use of the library each year, and more books being added which will necessitate added room or a separate building. Ways and means for a fund to be started towards a possible building in the future, have been quite thoroughly discussed. We have endeavored to give to the public the latest books and magazines, concerning all subjects, that all tastes may be satisfied. The balance of one hundred and sixty dollars reported by the treasurer is reserved to purchase an up-to-date Encyclopedia which is much needed, and will be used as soon as the kind can be decided upon. The trustees will gladly receive any helpful suggestions or lists of books desired by the town's people.

Respectfully submitted,

C. R. L. SNOW
B. M. WHITMAN,

Report of the Chief of Police

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

I submit my annual report with a feeling of pleasure. We have passed through the year with very little trouble. No serious automobile accidents, nobody drowned, and only one fatality. Mrs. Jane Baxter was suffocated or died of heart failure in a fire at her home on Highland Ave.

I consider it remarkable that with the population and the amount of traffic there are so few accidents and so little crime.

There were no reports of "pocket picking" during the summer.

I give great credit to my officers and also the life guards, who were men well qualified for their positions. They have a record of twenty six (26) rescues from the surf, some of them being nothing short of heroic.

I would recommend an extra appropriation this next year for police protection in the camp ground district; there was considerable feeling in regard to it last year. A petition was presented to me and I took the matter up with the Board, but owing to lack of funds could do nothing except have my regular men make the rounds twice every night. They have never had any protection in that district except what they get by telephone and I think it is time they did.

Old Orchard is growing so rapidly and with the extra crowds that are brought in by excursions and the enormous crowd at the Aviation meet, taxed my department beyond the limit. We must have a larger police force if we intend to keep our reputation as a safe place for visitors.

You will find my bill for auto hire quite large this year, but I make it a point, and it has been my policy, that when a call comes in, to get to that point in the quickest possible time, no matter what the expense.

Our parking problem is still with us and the probable loss of the strip of land on West Grand Ave., which the Boston and Maine railroad kindly gave us permission to use, it will be worse than ever. There must be some tract of land that can be taken over and converted into a public parking ground with a competent man to have charge of it. I hope something will be done about it this year.

Below you will find a list of arrests for the past year.

Health Officer's Report

To the Selectmen and Citizens of Old Orchard, Maine:

The Public Health Officer submits his annual report for the year ending January 31, 1925:

I have a good report for the health of Old Orchard again this year, only two light cases appearing of diphtheria which fortunately did not spread.

The past year I have received the usual number of complaints for petty nuisances and all have been investigated and looked after to the best of my ability.

Once again I want to call your attention to the matter of the dump. The town has no place of its own and is dependent upon the permission of private owners for the place to deposit the waste, both dry and wet. The town should own a place and then have some rule to govern those who bring stuff to dump there. The amount of waste collected during the season is enormous and would be a revelation to one not connected with the work. It is absolutely necessary that something should be done about this in order to keep the reputation of Old Orchard good for health and cleanliness.

A new dump will have to be provided at Ocean Park this year. People are building near the old one and complaints are coming in, as the dumps are unsightly places at their best.

Thanking you for all courtesies extended.

F. P. WEYMOUTH,

Health Officer

Auditor's Report

Old Orchard, Maine, Feb. 1, 1925

To the Legal Voters of the Town of Old Orchard:

Have carefully examined the accounts of the Selectmen, Assessors, Overseers of the Poor, Treasurer, Collector of Taxes and Treasurer of the Public Library for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1924, and find them correct and properly vouched for.

RUTH H. ANGIS,

Auditor.

Report of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department

To the Citizens of Old Orchard :

I herewith present my annual report.

The records show that the department was called out nineteen times to fires of major importance, and on several other occasions on matters of small moment. On each occasion the men of the company rendered excellent services, holding the fires in each instance to the property of origin. The apparatus is in good condition, but I would recommend the purchase of a new motor pump for the use of the company, as I feel that, with the fire hazard we have here during the summer season, we should be prepared for any emergency.

I would also recommend the purchase of 500 feet of new hose.

School Report

To the Citizens of Old Orchard—

The past year has been one of gratifying progress in spite of unusual difficulties.. The completion of the new elementary school building is perhaps the most easily recognized sign of development. The advance along the more intangible lines of educational development has been equally great.

On December 1924, the town dedicated a new six room elementary building of which it may well be proud. Modern in construction, lighting and sanitation, it provides splendid housing for pupils of the elementary grades. Of even more importance to the educational future of the town, placing the first six grades in one plant and separate from the higher six grades, makes for unity of instruction and provision for further development of the educational plan along the best lines.

The building represents the best thought of many Old Orchard citizens not technically in the work of education. The way in which those people gave their time and attention to the problems should be gratefully appreciated by the town as a whole. The building was erected and equipped at a cost under $44,000 which in itself is testimony to the careful consideration given to financial as well as educational detail by the building commission.

In educational development, closer coordination of the entire system has been provided through the appointment of Mr. Jewett as principal of the entire system. Working under the school officials, he will handle smaller administrative problems and will assist in working out details of larger matters.

This year efforts have been begun to give every pupil, all the time, the aid of the entire system. For instance, the work of a pupil may be done in different grades as his weaknesses appear. If a pupil in the ninth grade proves to be only of sixth grade ability in spelling, he takes special spelling work under the guidance of elementary grade teachers until he has reached the proficiency of the grade in which he is doing the major part of his work.

Believing, as indicated in previous reports, that the health of the child is one of the most important objectives—not only for his future success, but also for his success in school work—we have been perfecting our health program. The reports of medical and dental inspections submitted at the close of the calendar year show the need of health work. Out of a total of 200 dental and 187 medical inspections; 185 pupils showed need for attention to their teeth; 60 had potential tonsil difficulties, and 27 needed attention to their eyes. Personal individual follow-up of the discovery of these difficulties and the cooperation of parents will more than pay for themselves in the efficiency of learning by the pupils, to say nothing of the value in the later and larger sphere of the individual's usefulness. A second follow-up inspection of the teeth has already proved of value. For all pupils who take their lunches at the school, hot cocoa is proving so valuable that plans are under consideration for providing one hot dish a day in addition to the cocoa.

Home-making activities for the upper grade girls have been valuable. The cocoa mentioned above has been provided through these classes. Two dinners, one at the time of the dedication of the new school and another for the alumni have been planned and prepared by the girls. In the sewing the pupils have made many dresses, laying the basis for their later individual economical activity as well as providing apparel of present value.

The business training during the present school year has been well motivated and made practical through various extra-curricular activities. The school paper, The Oceanic, has given various pupils training in English and business. Incidentally, this paper promotes the community by demonstrating the value of the schools and publishing the attractions of the town. The school savings system inculcates thrift and gives practical training for several high school pupils who act as tellers. Promotion of the Red Cross, sale of Christmas seals, and various club activities provide business experience for many more pupils. During the year practically all of the pupils in the upper grades are given an opportunity to develop their business sense.

This is a valuable part of the educational program. All education is not in the class room and in books. It will be the policy of the administration to limit and guide carefully projects involving sales among the townspeople to prevent their becoming a nuisance. However, all interested in the schools are urged to consider that material benefits obtained through these sales, important as they are, are of little value as compared with the training the boys and girls receive.

Good citizenship is always a major motive in education. The schools co-operated with the National Educational Association and the American Legion in the observance of American Education Week, and with the local Post of The American Legion in the observance of Armistice Day.

In the Junior high school a school-town government has been organized giving civic training to pupil officers and to those who learn to obey them. In addition to developing a civic spirit, this work trains the pupils in written and spoken English, developing some of them to a point where they successfully handle extemporaneous speaking.

The school musical program, including in addition to the general training, the glee club and the orchestra has been successfully handled under skilled leadership.

It should be especially gratifying to the taxpayers to know that our organization is being maintained at a very reasonable cost. According to the report of the State commissioner of education, the rate of taxation for the maintenance of schools during the year ending July 1, 1924 for Old Orchard (3.9 mills) is the lowest for any town in York county.

This financial, as well as the more important educational advantages, is due to the extreme care given by the board of education to the matters left in their charge. At all times, during the past year especially, they have been unstinting in giving their time, thought and judgment to the schools,—a fact which should be gratefully appreciated by parents and tax payers.

OUR NEEDS.

It is evident that the Old Orchard schools have a solid basis for the further intensification and expansion of a progressive educational program. Perhaps the great advantage obtained for the School system during the past year has been the interest of so many different people which has been aroused by consideration of the new building. Probably more people in Old Orchard understand the schools intimately today than has been true for many years. With this splendid spirited interest, now is the time to take up various proposals for the further development of the system.

1. Maintenance of Our Teacher Efficiency.

If we are to continue the progress of our schools, our first aim should be to keep the present ability of our teaching force. The efficiency of our teachers is highly praised by the state department of education. Our teachers show a high initiative and adaptability. These have been evident in the several different shifts necessary in housing and organization during the past year. These qualities must always be present for success in meeting the peculiar problems of our system. With able teachers, contented and properly paid it is possible to blend the best in the spirit of rural education with the best in the organization of city schools. Old Orchard can afford to make adequate provision for salaries because of the saving in other expenses which the maintaining of all schools in one center makes possible.

Present indications are that in the near future an additional teacher will be necessary. There are now two places in the system where relief seems desirable. Financial provision should be made at this time for an extra teacher. Just where that teacher will be placed is an administrative problem to be solved as later developments demand.

2. Further Improvements In Our School Plants.

Our high school building is sadly in need of improvement. A detailed plan for this will be drawn up and presented by the board of education. The provisions of this plan will meet the requirements of the state board of education and the state is able to give us financial aid in making the changes. The program will include improvement of ventilation, lighting, sanitation, etc. It should have the support of parents and taxpayers interested in the schools.

The basement of the new building should be cemented. It is soon going to be necessary to move the noon lunches from a now vacant room to the basement. In the basement, provision for manual training work for boys can be made. In other words, the cemented basement is necessary and will make possible other developments in the system with little expense.

At present the new building is wired for bells but no bells have been installed. Lack of a signal to maintain a uniform time schedule is a cause of serious confusion. Owing to the fact that the new building is of wooden construction, some form of bell for a fire signal is also necessary. A bell system should be installed in the same building as soon as possible.

A room is provided in the new building on the second floor for a health room and teachers' rest and consultation room. At present this room is unfurnished. The demands of our health program as well as justice to the teachers should bring about the furnishing of this room in order that it may fill the place in the system for which it was designed. This would not be an expensive proposition.

3. Manual and Vocational Training for Boys.

We are presenting a fairly good program in home-making for girls. Little manual or vocational training is presented for our boys. To provide this would require some equipment,—some of which might be provided by the boys themselves in the course of their work. We are already doing very well for the boys along academic lines. This is shown by the fact that some of our boys are in college and several others are now preparing for college. Thus if we provide for practical work along manual and vocational lines we will be offering to both boys and girls choices equal to those of larger systems,—and we shall always remember that because we have our pupils in smaller groups we are able to teach them better than they can in larger places. If we put in this manual and vocational work, we will receive state aid.

4. ADDITION TO THE SCHOOL SITE

At present we are handicapped by lack of playground around our schools. In order to provide more playground, as well as for future expansion, an addition to our present site should be purchased as soon as financially possible.

Respectfully submitted,
F. H. B. HEALD,
Superintendent of Schools.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

To the Superintendent of Schools:

High School opened with a registration of forty pupils. This was about the same as last fall. Our average was a little over thirty-eight pupils. I believe this is one of the best attendance records we have ever had. The Junior class, consisting of seven, has five who have not been absent or tardy since school began in September.

The regular attendance has had its influence on the scholarship of the school as a whole. I believe that the average scholarship is better this year than it has been in the past.

The school activities this year are very much the same as last, with one exception. We have no basket ball because the number of students available for this sport did not warrant our having teams. I will mention briefly the extra curriculum activities before dealing with the regular work.

The Oceanic, which will be ready for circulation about February first, is still being improved each year. Last year in the Maine Interscholastic Publication contest, held under the direction of the State University at Orono, the Oceanic won second prize. This success is indeed gratifying when we consider the magnitude of the contest. All of the high school magazines of the state were entered.

Our Speaking Contest which was held in March was very successful. It showed very keen competition among the contestants. First and second prizes were awarded to both boys and girls. The best speaker was sent to the York County Contest at Kennebunk. This year our contest will be held the last of March.

All of the pupils in the Senior High were required to enter the American Legion Essay Contest. The subject was "All Immigrants Should Be Excluded from the United States for the Next Five Years." Harold Goodkowsky was given first prize and Ruth Jeffries second. Both the Junior and Senior High students wrote essays for the County W. C. T. U. Contest on the subjects of Law Enforcement and the Harmful Effects of Tobacco on the Growing Boy.

In regard to our regular curriculum I think that the following account speaks for itself. We still remain on the New England Approved List of high schools. We have the privilege of sending students to college on certificate without examinations. That the work of our high school is of college grade is evidenced by the fact that we now have students at the University of Maine, Bates and at Syracuse University, all of whom are making good records. These students were all admitted without examinations.

In order to secure a certificate for college entrance a student must do at least a "B" grade of work or maintain an average rank above eighty per cent. for the four years. A student may gain entrance to college from our high school provided he has the willingness and ability to do the work prescribed for him.

FRANK H. JEWETT, Principal.

HEALTH DIRECTOR'S REPORT.

Old Orchard, Maine

Feb. 19, 1925

Superintendent F. H. B Heald :
South Portland, Maine
R. F. D. No. 6.

My dear Mr. Heald:

Some years ago our country realized that there was need of a readjustment in the aims of the high school. This was due to the fact that the high school enrollment was increasing rapidly. As a result a national committee was chosen to draw up what it considered to be the chief aims of the high schools of our country. This committee drew up seven aims or objectives for secondary education. The first of these seven objectives is health.

The Old Orchard High School, realizing the importance of health work in connection with education, is trying to expand its health program.

This year a new feature of the health program was begun by the teacher of Domestic Arts, Miss Blackman. She serves each day a hot dish for the children who bring their lunch to school. For a few cents, a child is able to procure a cup of hot cocoa or soup. One of the rooms in the new elementary building has been fitted up as a lunch room. At noon each day, one of the elementary teachers supervises this lunch room.

In grades two and three the health idea is kept before the children daily by means of a health chart. In grades five, six and seven, the pupils are enrolled in the Health Crusade. Each child has a record of health chores he has performed.

The health club for the senior high school girls was reorganized this year and a club was started for the girls in the junior high school. In March the health club girls are to present a health play. The proceeds from the play are to be used to help in fitting up the health room in the elementary building.

On January 6 Dr. Cecil P. Brown of Portland examined the teeth of the Old Orchard school children. In his report, Dr. Brown states that there has been an improvement in the condition of the teeth.

Dr. John T. Pepper, county health officer gave the school medical examination on January 13th. He found the following defects:

No. of children examined, 187; tonsils, 60; eyes, 28; skin diseases, 3.

Some follow-up work has been done this year along health lines. Parents of children with defective eyesight have received cards notifying them of their defects. Some parents have been notified personally of defects in children's tonsils.

We want our school to be just as modern as any school in the state. In order to aid in increasing the health of our school children we need (1) a larger playground and (2) an adequate gymnasium. It seems just as essential to train young bodies as it is to train young minds. Without health, knowledge is of little use to any of us.

REPORT OF SCHOOL DENTIST FOR YEAR
1924—1925

Cecil P. Brown, D. D. S.

January 28, 1925

655 Congress Street

Portland, Maine.

F. H. B. Heald, Superintendent of Schools,
Old Orchard, Me.

Dear Sir:

I herewith submit my report for the examination of the town of Old Orchard school pupils.

Total number examined 200, number of cavities 1003.

There were fifteen having perfect teeth.

There were sixteen having only one cavity.

Nineteen having only two cavities.

Having sixteen cavities one.

Having fifteen cavities two.

I desire to call your attention to the improvement made in the pupils of Old Orchard in the past three years. My first report showed I examined 171 pupils, with the total number of cavities 1134

This year while examining 29 pupils more than three years ago there was a total of 130 cavities less.

Furthermore I desire to call your attention to the fact that three years ago there were only three pupils having perfect teeth and two of these were in the first grade, while this year you have a total of fifteen having perfect teeth, or a 500 per cent. improvement.

Another fact, three years ago there were four pupils having only one cavity each, while this year there are sixteen with only one cavity each, showing a 100 per cent. improvement. Three years ago there were ten pupils having two cavities each while this year there are nineteen pupils having only two cavities each, showing an improvement of nearly 200 per cent. On the other hand, three years ago there were two pupils having fifteen cavities each, and this year showed the same condition, no improvement. Also, three years ago there was one pupil having sixteen cavities, with one pupil this year having sixteen cavities.

This should prove that dental inspection is very beneficial to a certain class of pupils while it fails altogether to reach a different class of pupils.

I desire to recommend that the town of Old Orchard should establish a dental clinic for their school pupils, because while dental inspection is beneficial to the pupils both from the standpoint of health and education there is a portion of the pupils that are not reached from the standpoint of health, and a dental clinic would reach every pupil from both viewpoints.
