REPORT OF CHIEF OF POLICE

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of the Town of Old Orchard Beach:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit a report of the Police Department for the fiscal year 1933 for your consideration.

It is again a pleasure to report the maintenance of this department within its appropriation, and we have an unexpended balance of $230.04.

During the past year, in conforming to the recovery program, the hours of the men were shortened, the pay reduced and the personnel increased. The many new methods introduced during the past two years have proven their value to the department. In the police school we were very fortunate in obtaining the services of Dr. Malone, a police school organizer, without cost to the town, and also lectures from many of the ranking officers from the Portland Department, for which we were very grateful and derived much knowledge from their kind services.

Our schedule of patrolling gave the several sections of the town much more protection than heretofore and should be continued. We have had the use of a Game-well demonstration set during the busy season, which proved its tremendous worth to the department, and I earnestly recommend that the voters consider an installation for 1934 so that we may have a guarantee patrol system the year around, together with the many advantages in emergencies.

I want to thank the Selectmen for their fine coöperation and support the past year. The personnel profited greatly by having the police school, and I want to thank them for their faithful attendance and the loyal manner in which they performed their duties. Courtesy and obedience to duty were among the first teachings, and to those supporting these principles I am very grateful.

In Memoriam

H. ALONZO G. MILLIKEN

A life-long resident of Old Orchard and a descendant of one of the pioneer families who took up a grant for Homesteading early in 1700. Born December 30, 1853, died June 22, 1933. He was the oldest son of Michael Nason and Esther Parker Milliken.

Before he was 21 he entered the milling business with his father and became an expert millman, devoting himself to the lumber business until he retired from active business life.

In 1881 he was united in marriage to Fannie E. Jameson and lived to celebrate their golden wedding October 12, 1931, one of the most largely attended and interesting social events in the local history of the town.

He was a staunch Republican and always interested in town affairs, serving as a Selectman and Representative to the State Legislature.

His interest in Fraternal organizations was born with the organization of Atlantic Lodge of Odd Fellows, of which he was a charter member, receiving the 50-year gold medal on the 50th Anniversary of Odd Fellowship in Old Orchard. He soon received all the honors within the gift of the local lodge and became affiliated with the higher branches of the Order.

He later became interested in the Masonic Order and advanced to a 32d degree Mason, holding membership in Orchard Lodge of Old Orchard, York Chapter of Saco, and Bradford Commandery of Biddeford.

He became interested in the early history of the Methodist Church and was on the official board for many years and one of the most generous supporters of the church.

Besides his wife, Fannie E., a son and daughter survive him, J. Nason Milliken and Mrs. John S. Black of Saco, and a grandson, John Kelvin Black.

Mr. Milliken was a quiet man but made and kept many friends and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Honorable School Committee, Board of Selectmen, and Citizens of Old Orchard Beach:

It gives me unusual pleasure to present this, my third, annual report of schools. The depression has focused general interest and attention on the schools and has brought into relief the fundamental nature of education in the tasks of democracy. There are increasing evidences of fine appreciation on the part of many individuals for those efforts carried on in the schools which make for the solidarity of our common life. The intangible thing we call our American Spirit is not an entity of chance. It is, rather, a product of our teaching. The teacher is both its sponsor and its architect. Only an educated people could pass through such sweeping economic changes as we have witnessed in the past twelve months with poise and restraint. The national character has been put to the test and stands as a tribute to the institution of the public school.

In the meantime school budgets have been hard to raise. Reduced schedules or crowded conditions have been allowed to prevail, some people have wondered what further curtailment could be made. The best informed answer to these conditions seems to be that, "the children should not be forced to foot the bills." Our economic chaos should not rest upon the childhood. The curtailment of educational privilege in this day of complex problems will penalize the next generation of voters into an impotence which will blight both our national hopes and our most cherished institutions. The complexity of our common life demands much of our schools—even penury should not deny these demands. There can be no freedom in its truest sense without free schools.

As we compare our schools with those of other states, we have much occasion for rejoicing. We have seen some significant advances this year in our work. May I point out that the type and quality of work done this year has been greatly advanced. A new measure of insight and appreciation on the part of the student body is apparent. Our results are more nearly what we ourselves desire them to be. The stewardship idea has been uppermost in the program, set up by the superintending school committee. They have aimed that in so far as possible our schools should be modern, both in the presentation of the subject matter and in the adaptability of the material to actual life conditions.

Financial

It has been generally recognized that property tax for the support of the public schools is inadequate. Schools cannot fully resume their full responsibilities until permanent income is assured. The uncertainty of the state subsidy for schools made planning for school budgets difficult this year. The various estimates made regarding the state fund was a decrease of from 10% to 40%.

There are several fundamental facts to be considered in discussing school finance at this time. The decrease of the state school subsidy was inevitable this year, and will not greatly improve next year. The enactments of the legislature decreased Manual Training and Domestic Science subsidy by 10% this year with a provision that it is to be further decreased by another 10% next year. In the meantime, the materials and the commodities used in these departments have increased by 25%.

Now let us look at the operating revenues this year as compared with last year. The elementary school appropriation made by the town in 1932 was $9,200, whereas in 1933 the appropriation was dropped to $8,000. This was a loss of $1,200. The High School appropriation in 1932 was $6,000, whereas this year the appropriation was dropped to $5,600. This makes a drop of $400. The transportation appropriation in 1932 was $500, whereas this year it was dropped to $300. The state subsidy to Common Schools decreased $344 this year. Therefore, the operating revenue of your schools as enumerated above was $2,144 less than the preceding year. This decrease affected the teachers' wages, janitorship, transportation and fuel. Now transportation and fuel could not be reduced, in fact transportation costs advanced. The decrease in school revenue, therefore, fell mostly on teachers' wages. Most school costs other than teachers' wages are in the nature of fixed costs.

You will be interested in noting certain outstanding facts regarding the general state tax situation as compared with Old Orchard Beach. The average State School Rate prevailing this year in Maine, as given out by the State Commissioner of Education, Dr. Bertram E. Packard, is .01087. In contrast to this, Old Orchard Beach has a school rate of .00347. In other words, for every dollar of valuation in your town .0074 was saved on school costs. These figures mean this, if your valuation in 1932 of $4,229,315 be taken as a basis of computation and had borne—a rate up to the average in Maine—or .0074 more than you did carry—the revenue would have been $31,296.93. Your tax ability if raised to the general average prevailing throughout the state, would yield $31,296.93 more money than you raise for schools and thus you would only approximate the average expenditure for schools. There is no specific proposal that you do this, but your citizens may by this comparison realize that schools are now run on a very narrow margin of revenue.

There is a further comparison of tax rates which may be interesting and worth while at this time. Old Orchard Beach has a tax rate of .035. The average municipal tax rate is .048. There are only 39 towns and 17 plantations whose tax rate is as reasonable as your own in the entire state. Assuming that the valuation of your town is fairly appraised, it is at once apparent that school and municipal rates are conservative when compared with your neighbors.

Transportation

The transportation of public school pupils has taken on new and interesting angles within the past year. In August, the Secretary of State announced a new set of regulations governing specifications for public school buses. These specifications are in effect at this time, but have not been enforced. At such time as the State Highway Police may determine, the regulations will be operative. They are in brief as follows:—“No municipality and no person employed by a municipality to convey children to school may use a conveyance which provides less than one linear foot of seating space for each pupil conveyed at any one time. Buses shall be equipped with two doors, one on the right to be used for all ordinary exits or entrances; the other at the rear to be controlled by the driver and used only in case of emergency. There shall also be shatter-proof glass."

Please note that this transportation ruling is not a school regulation to be enforced by the State Department of Education or by the local School Committee, but comes from the Secretary of State and will be enforced by the Highway Department. This is a matter I most urgently request that the Superintending School Committee consider when appropriations are being made.

Repairs

The oil burner at the High School had to be thoroughly overhauled this fall and has been rendering acceptable service since that time. There are abundant signs that indicate that this furnace may likely need to be replaced in the near future. You should have this contingency in mind when you make up your budget.

A new chimney should replace the one at the High School. You are, of necessity, going to use this building indefinitely. The old chimney is not large enough to care for a draft sufficient for a building of this size. Since there is a doubt as to the safety of this chimney, the school committee decline to be solely responsible for further delay in this matter of safety, and, thus in this report, submit to you the future policy regarding the building of a new chimney at the High School. We recommend immediate action in this matter.

Whenever it becomes necessary to install a new furnace at the High School, it should be borne in mind that more adequate radiation at this building is necessary. This building has been increasingly difficult to heat.

The fine sanitary upkeep inaugurated in other years at the schools has been followed out this year and has, I think, contributed to the general good health of the student body. The school committee deserve your fullest commendation for their personal care and deep individual interest in the upkeep of the schools.

Due to the great increase of enrollment this year, it was found necessary to purchase 44 new seats and desks. These were of the Universal type and were purchased at the lowest market price at which these desks were ever sold. This type of furniture has now doubled in price.

It is thought that the outside woodwork and trim of the school buildings should have attention in the near future. Whenever this work is attempted, it should be by special appropriation, since the expenditure will be rather large.

New Teachers

This year two teachers need introduction as members of the High School faculty in the persons of Mr. Elmer S. Marshall and Mr. Alpheus L. Whittemore. These two men are seasoned teachers and have had years of very successful teaching experiences back of them. Each is an acknowledged master in his field. They bring to the High School a very much appreciated solidity of character and an outlook on life greatly to be desired in this day of unrest. I have unbounded confidence in the firm and friendly qualities these men will contribute to the High School Staff and predict that out of their tuition will come a scholastic tone and standard of achievement much appreciated by all friends of the school. These men are among the best in their profession. I commend them to your acquaintance and recommend you seek out their stalwart quality of manhood and character.

Health

The school nursing program has a fine report of work this year which you will find included in this report.

The Dental Clinic has performed a much needed and a greatly appreciated piece of work this year, as it has in the past. We are glad to report a gift of the dental office equipment of the late Dr. W. B. Clement by his son, Dwight, to the Old Orchard Beach School Committee, to be used in the schools. This equipment has been installed in the dental room of the elementary school.

The Federal Health program, as sponsored by the State Board of Health, for undernourished children is being carried forward at this time. The local nursing staff and schools are coöperating in every way to make this a success. Dr. L. E. Willard and the local physicians will prescribe diets for the undernourished children of the town and the Federal Government will bear the expense.

Enrollment

I wish to present a study of the enrollment in the elementary school. There were enrolled by the 25th of September 216 pupils distributed in the grades as follows:— First, 46; second, 30; third, 29; fourth, 36; fifth, 39; sixth, 36. These grades gained and lost members throughout the fall, but held this average better than some years. Let me present some interesting facts. Out of the 216 pupils registered 99 were girls while 117 were boys. There were more girls in the third grade than boys but this was the only grade in the elementary school where this condition prevailed. You will be interested in the following age distribution chart:

AGE	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	Total
Grade 1	17	19	8	2								46

Grades are difficult to administer in proportion as they have a wide range of chronological differences. It is true that chronology of a child is not an unvarying index of psychological interests, but is nevertheless likely to indicate the problem child. In each group, these pupils who are greatly over age as compared with the grade age as a whole are pupils who because of frequent changes in school life, sickness, or retardation, due to slowness, come to be the pupils on whom most of the teachers' extra time, nervous energy, and solicitous care is bestowed. This is now quite inevitable. The bright child, the one on whom the state and finally the nation must depend does the grade easily and almost unnoticed. The bright pupils often never have to expend half their energy or call upon their reserve ability to do their work. This study indicates the need for us to be alert in providing an interesting and challenging curriculum for the child who succeeds easily but is not a problem either in discipline or retardation. The public school should level up pupils to the best ability of the group not down to the poorer ranges of the group.

I shall attempt to provide, with your help, and cooperation, books, and extra work materials intended to give to our very unusual minds an opportunity to the most of their ability. I have already made some advance along this line in the work books provided in the first four grades that are used in conjunction with their readers.

In conclusion I wish to express my appreciation to the teaching staff for their conscientious and sustained interest in the children they serve; to the Superintending School Committee for their fine spirit of coöperation; to the Selectmen and the general public for the support, both material and spiritual, which has been unfailing. Immediately following, you will find reports from the various departments which will be of general interest.

Respectfully submitted,

H. C. HULL,

Superintendent.

REPORT OF PRINCIPAL

To the Superintendent and Superintending School Committee:

The year 1933 has continued the good record of Old Orchard Junior-Senior High School in all of its activities. The improved physical conditions in the classrooms such as better lighting, varnishing and painting walls, have proved to have a lasting good effect upon student morale. Pupil interest and accomplishment has increased.

To further stimulate the work of the school, more textbooks and some new equipment has been added. Notable among the former are new books on "Man's Progress," "Problems of American Democracy," "American Government in 1933," and "Our World Today." One new course was added in Junior Business Training and the textbooks for the same supplied. For new equipment, I would mention new chemistry and physics supplies, also seven new L. C. Smith typewriters, making a total of twelve, two new portable electric sewing machines, and two new electric ranges. I believe that at no former time has the school been any better equipped than at present.

The results of this fortunate situation have been seen in the better work done by the students and in the fact that more of our graduates have continued their education. The record made by our alumni in schools and colleges has been continuously and consistently good. This is all the more gratifying when you recall that those entering college have done so by principal's certificate and without taking examinations.

The school still has the seven instructors, including the principal. The same varied program as offered last year was offered again. The total enrollment increased in the fall of 1933 to 121. We have lost through transfers to other schools or by dropping out six pupils, making our present enrollment 115. This is eight more than for the previous year. Our pupil load per teacher is now $16\frac{1}{2}$ as compared with $15\frac{1}{2}$ last year.

This year we have consistently followed the state recommendations for physical education in the 7th and 8th grades. During the early part of the Fall Term, 1933, an average of 100 minutes a week was spent by both grades in setting up exercises and drills. This was an average of 20 minutes a day. When the basketball season opened for the older students, arrangements were made to take the 7th and 8th grade boys to the Town Hall for practice basketball twice a week and the girls of the same grades for two periods. The other day of the week has been used for physical drills for both grades combined. Your principal has carried on this work with the younger pupils with great enjoyment to himself and much profit to the pupils. He sees no reason why two good junior high teams cannot be developed which will be a credit to the school. The girls have already earned almost enough through the interest and coöperation of parents and citizens to purchase gym suits for their squad. The boys now want to do the same for their group. The results are a renewed interest in all school activities, and better teamwork and sportsmanship. Such work should lay the foundation for healthy bodies and more alert minds.

The physical training for the high school is taken care of by two other faculty members, Miss Leona Priest for the girls and Mr. Elmer Marshall for the boys. That they are both doing splendid work is evidenced by the good record of both basketball teams. While several veterans were lost last June at graduation by both teams, new players have been developed to take their places. We hope to finish the 1933-1934 season with as good a record as for any of the past few seasons. Next spring other forms of physical activity are planned.

The school assemblies, held usually once each week, have made a definite contribution to the welfare of the school. These are of three types: (1) with outside speakers, (2) musical, and (3) student program. We have been fortunate in getting an able group of speakers interested in young people. Thanks and sincere appreciation are due to Rev. Walter Cass and Rev. Father James Mullen for their helpful talks in this series. Several speakers were obtained from Saco and Biddeford, as well as two college professors, one from Northeastern University in Boston, and the other from Bates College, Lewiston, Maine. The musical assemblies consist of chorus and part singing of familiar songs. These will be continued and, in part, help to take care of the musical training of the school. In this connection, the work of Miss Priest, with her Junior High Music Club, come in for all credit due. This club has already helped on P. T. A. and school programs. The student programs, coached and assisted by various members of the faculty, have been extremely interesting and valuable. The two that deserve mention are the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies. Considerable natural talent is being discovered in this way.

One other special activity should be considered at this point, namely, public speaking and dramatic interpretation. The annual senior play furnishes a splendid opportunity for both. While all the plays have differed, each has been distinctive, each well rendered and each very entertaining. The students have worked hard and deserve much credit for their performance. They would be the first to recognize and give praise where it is most largely due, namely to Miss Katherine Gailey, the coach. Her work has been tireless and inspiring, her suggestions pertinent and most helpful. The town is indeed fortunate in having a teacher who can coach dramatics as well as teach commercial subjects.

The first and most important activity of our school is improving scholarship with a view to better preparation for citizenship. I can in all fairness say that such a goal has been reached in the past year. I know that our students are doing work equal to that done in any small high school of the state, in some cases even superior work. The faculty will not be content to stop with present achievement but will continually strive towards better results. They realize that the people of Old Orchard Beach will only be satisfied with the best for and from their children.

I wish now to express my appreciation of the faculty. Each has done his or her part loyally and well. They aimed at progress and have succeeded in getting it. They have completed their work for 1933. Each has done the best he or she could. They continue on in 1934 with a steadfast resolution to do even better. I have enjoyed the privilege of working with such a splendid group of teachers.

Finally, I wish to thank you, Mr. Hull and Members of the School Board, for your whole-hearted coöperation, interest, and generosity. You as agents and representatives of the Town of Old Orchard Beach, have supported adequately, carefully, and intelligently, the schools of the town. You have furnished the books and equipment whereby Old Orchard Junior-Senior High School, faculty and students alike, has made its good record in 1933.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES E. HAMLIN, A. M.,

Principal.

HOME ECONOMICS

To the Superintendent of Schools and Board of Education, Old Orchard Beach, Maine:

I am pleased to submit a brief report of the Home Economics Department of the Junior-Senior High School.

Since there has been a slight change in our course of study as sent out from the State Department at Augusta, I thought it might be interesting to outline briefly the course as taught in our school, and many schools of this type in the state.

The work in this Department has been extended to include the sixth grade. These students learn the fundamental stitches through the making of the cooking uniform for use next year. After a certain degree of skill is attained by hand, they learn step by step, the use of the sewing machine. Their two single periods weekly do not permit very rapid progress, but have one advantage in that the pupil is not allowed to become over-tired.

The work of the seventh grade consists of Foods and Health Problems for the first semester with breakfasts as their particular project. At the end of this project the class is divided in half, and each half plans, prepares and serves a breakfast to the other half of the class. This is followed by a report of friendly criticisms. Clothing and Health, with a short unit on Home Care, completes the work of this class for the year.

Foods and Marketing for the eighth grade occupies the first half year. The preservation of food, Luncheons and Suppers, and the Box Lunch, are their special projects. They show great enthusiasm and interest in planning the luncheons to serve to their parents. Clothing, its Care, Construction and Hygiene, completes the course of this grade for the year.

The Freshman course of study is divided into three distinct parts. The fall months are devoted to the study of Foods and Nutrition, while the cold winter months are devoted to the planning, preparation and serving of the Hot Lunch to the boys and girls who bring a box lunch from home. This project is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. The large number of pupils desiring lunch made it necessary for the Association to purchase considerable new equipment this year. Accurate accounts are kept of all receipts and expenditures under the supervision of the Commercial Department.

The approximate number served during the month of January was 800.

The third part of the Freshman year is devoted to Problems of Dress, which includes a study of becoming lines and colors in wearing apparel, the making of old garments into new, making children's clothing, and buymanship.

For our most advanced class, consisting of Sophomores and Juniors, we find quite a change. Their program is made up of:

Unit I—The Family Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow.

Unit II—The Family and the Community.

Unit III—Making the Home Attractive.

Unit IV—Making the Home Happy Through Leisure.

Unit V—Making the Home Convenient.

The organization of the "Family Council," which meets once a week, is one of the most recent features tried out in the advanced class, and one that leads to some intensely interesting discussions.

We are glad to announce that due to the new equipment that has been added each year this department is fast losing its reputation of being one of the most poorly equipped departments in the state. This year our Board of Education has been able to take advantage of low prices and besides the much needed miscellaneous equipment, two new electric ranges have been installed, as well as two portable electric sewing machines. Tables for these machines will be built as soon as suitable lumber can be obtained by the Manual Training Department. Thanks to the coöperation of this department small drawers have been built in the sides of the large working table. These drawers provide a place for much of the small equipment used by the individual students and do away with a great many needless steps.

The tea, to which all parents and friends were invited, during Education Week, was a huge success. Over sixty parents and friends were present.

In closing, I wish to thank you, Superintendent Hull, and the Members of the Board of Education for their hearty coöperation and support in helping to make this important vocation, Homemaking, function successfully in our schools.

Respectfully submitted,

SARA L. AIKINS.

MANUAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

To the Superintendent of Schools and Members of the School Board:

I am pleased to submit herewith a report of the Manual Arts Department of the Junior and Senior High School for the year 1933-34.

The work has begun with the sixth grade as in former years, but, because of the large number of pupils in the present class and the limited bench room and tool equipment, it has been necessary to divide this group into two sections, each of which comes to the shop for a single period twice a week. Their projects have been small but of such a nature as to appeal to the interest of boys of that age, and give some knowledge of the care and use of the commoner tools. These pupils have also received rudimentary instruction in the reading of a working drawing or sketch of the project they are to make and in computing the cost of materials used. Typical projects are: plain cutting boards, memorandum pads, mechanical toys, doll furniture, repair of sleds, etc.

Beginning with the seventh grade the course follows that outlined by the state department. This consists of the making and reading of simple working drawings, instruction and practice in the use of simple carpenter's tools and some of the commoner finishing materials, such as shellac, paint, and wax. More practice is given in the use of such tools as jack plane, block plane, try-square, marking gauge, hammer, screwdriver, bits, etc., than in the sixth grade and more emphasis placed on their proper care and adjustment. This group has a double period two days each week and typical projects have been: bread boards and game boards, bird houses, book ends, door stops, etc. They have been encouraged to bring from home repair work within their ability, such as chairs to be recaned and reglued, sleds and carts to be put in "going" order, etc.

The eighth grade work has followed the same procedure as the seventh grade with regard to the making of a working drawing of each project, because of the practical importance of being able to make and read such drawings in almost any occupation which the boy may later take up. More elaborate projects involving simple joints have been chosen and more latitude given each student in his choice. As in all the grades the aim is knowledge of fundamental tool processes and handling of material rather than the completion of the largest possible number of projects. Some electrical problems have been attempted, such as bell wiring, repair and care of simple electrical appliances. Some work has also been done with sheet metal, involving simple problems in laying out work, cutting, bending, riveting and soldering.

This class comes to the shop for a double period three days a week and typical projects attempted are book racks, book troughs, taboretts, medicine cabinets, desk lamps, costumers, etc. Properties and uses of some of the more common woods are taken up as well as the application of paint, lacquer, varnish, and other finishes.

In the senior high school the work is elective for freshmen and sophomores. For the freshmen, simple cabinet work in the harder woods is undertaken, such as sewing or smoking cabinets, small tables, bookcases, etc. Here more detailed working drawings, with lists of material precede the actual construction and this also holds true for the sophomore group, who take up still more difficult problems. Both of these classes have completed considerable repair work about the buildings and in the shop, such as the making of cabinets for the tool crib, lockers for storage of unfinished and finished projects, new stands for some of the shop machines, typewriting table for the commercial department, sewing machine tables and drawers for the cooking table in the home economics department, cabinet for the storage of milk in the elementary building, etc. The boys of the sophomore group have also completed gun cabinets, book troughs, medicine cabinets, bureaus, game tables, etc., for their own use. After securing written permission from their parents these two groups are given instruction and practice in the care and safe operation of the small machines which we have in the shop. These machines are of the type often found now in home workshops so the knowledge and habits gained in their use may be of value at any time.

The year's enrollment has been as follows:

6th Grade, 20; 7th Grade, 11; 8th Grade, 18; 9th Grade, 6; 10th Grade, 12. Total, 67.

Respectfully submitted,

A. L. WHITTEMORE,

Instructor.

SCHOOL NURSING

To the Superintendent of Schools and Board of Education:

I hereby submit the report of School Nursing.

Routine inspection of toilets, buildings and water facilities has been carried on as in previous years.

Inspection of pupils in classrooms and follow-up visits to homes during the year to prevent spread of communicable diseases.

317 pupils were given annual inspection by the nurse.

308 examined by the school physician, Dr. L. E. Willard. The following defects and corrections were recorded:

Defects	Corrections
Eye	7
Ear	1
Nose and Throat	4
Heart	1
Glands	1
Chest	1
Skin	1
Posture	1
Anemia	1
10% underweight	6

All chest cases were requested to present a physician's certificate before entering school and were re-examined by our school physician.

218 pupils were examined by the school dentist, Dr. A. W. Foss. 96 pupils were eligible for honor roll on first examination.

The average number of cavities per child were 2, plus a decrease of about 2 cavities per child over the previous year. This can readily be attributed to the Clinic through the Red Cross.

176 were given prophylaxis or cleaning.

Dental repair clinic held, 10 sessions; pupils attending, 61; extractions, 44; fillings, 81; abscess treatments, 1, making the total number of pupils on Honor Roll, 123.

30 pupils were vaccinated by Dr. Leon Nemon, under the annual immunization program of the Board of Health. The usual routine of daily dressings at school or home were done as necessary.

The annual Pre-school Clinic was held in May in coöperation with the National Child Health Program. Financed by the Local Branch American Red Cross. 18 children received physical, dental examinations and cleanings.

Number of parents present, 10. Children bringing their certificates, 9.

Defects as follows: Nose and Throat, 1; Heart, 1; Skin, 1; Teeth, 10.

17 classes in home nursing have been held in coöperation with Domestic Arts Department (Mrs. Aikins in charge). Students are taught bed-making, bathing and care of the sick, care and feeding of infants and pre-school children, administration of medicine and treatments such as recommended by the physicians. An exhibit of equipment made by the class and by the Manual Training Class, demonstrating an economic and practical use of many improvised appliances for the sick room available in every home was set up as part of the School Exhibit in June.

A series of Health Education Talks for Parents were held at the High School sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association.

Milk and hot lunches have been served again this year, prepared by the Domestic Arts students, financed by the P. T. A. Shoes, rubbers, glasses, and minor necessities have been provided for many pupils by the Association. The interest of the Association and the value of service is increasing each year to the support of our school and its welfare program.

I wish to express my appreciation to the Superintendent and Superintending School Committee, Teachers and Parents, for their coöperation and support in carrying on the School Health Program.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRIET E. FOSS.

TAX COLLECTOR'S REPORT

To Date Feb. 15, 1934

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen, Town of Old Orchard Beach, Maine.

Gentlemen:

I herewith submit for your consideration the following report of tax collections, to balance $148,726.14—total amount of taxes, Real Estate and Personal, including Poll Tax, submitted to me for collection.

The following is a detailed summary of collections, abatements, and unpaid taxes, to balance this amount of $148,726.14, submitted to me for collection.

1933 real estate and personal tax money given to treasurer	$131,733.60
Real estate and personal tax money given to treasurer, 1934	339.22
Unpaid non-resident taxes, as listed	7,049.60
Unpaid resident taxes, as listed	7,148.11
Abatements, real estate and personal, as listed	152.00
Receipt for taxes previously sold and held by town by tax deeds	245.61
1933 poll tax money given to treasurer	1,041.00
1933 poll tax money given to treasurer, 1934	216.00
Unpaid poll taxes, as listed	744.00
Poll tax abatements, i.e., deceased, old age, paid elsewhere	57.00
	$148,726.14

The above statement is a clear, precise accounting of every cent of tax entrusted to me for the 1933 commitment collection. The amount called for by the Collector's Book can readily be verified by the payments made to the Town Treasurer to date by check plus the unpaid taxes and abatements as listed in detail. These tally with the total amount the Collector's Book obligated me to account for.

The following are separate items:

Excise tax (automobiles)	$3,194.35
Interest for 1933 taxes	137.69
Interest for 1932 taxes	31.84
1932 personal taxes	419.09
1932 poll tax	42.00
1932 supplementary tax	22.00

SUPPLEMENTARY TAX, 1933

Submitted for collection	$ 447.35
Collected and given to town treasurer	419.09
Unpaid, as listed	28.26

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH J. MULLEN,

Collector of Taxes.

The following summarizes the total of unpaid taxes and abatements, i.e., names and amounts.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Legal Voters of the Town of Old Orchard Beach:

I have examined the accounts of the selectmen, assessors and overseers of the poor, tax collector, town treasurer, and treasurer of the public library for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1933, and have found them correct with each expenditure properly vouched for.

The system of accounting instituted in 1931 has been strictly adhered to, although this necessitates a work week of never less than forty hours for your treasurer, whose remuneration is considerably less than that paid former treasurers for part-time work under the old system of bookkeeping.

KATHERINE L. WHITMAN,
Auditor.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

The Board of Health begs to report that the town has been very fortunate in having very few cases of contagious disease during the year. This favorable condition has been brought about through vigilance and care exercised by parents and teachers in protecting the health of our children in both home and school. We are glad to have to report only one case of scarlet fever. Prompt action in isolating this case and disinfecting desk and seats in the schoolroom minimized the possibility of contact with others. We cannot speak too highly of the thoughtfulness of our teachers in caring for the children and guarding them from sickness and disease.

The Board has been glad to coöperate in the holding of a clinic in the interest of undernourished children in Old Orchard Beach homes. This clinic is part of the public welfare movement to provide aid where it is needed, through funds furnished by the federal government.

In mid-summer the undrained and swampy condition of some parts of the Camp Ground section gave rise to complaints, made to the Board, but nothing definite could be found showing a condition productive of sickness or disease. We recommend, however, that the Town improve this section at the earliest possible date, either by drainage or by filling in with sand or gravel, so that this unsightly condition may not become a menace to the health of owners in that vicinity.

In the early Spring the State Department required quarantine of all dogs in town, from March 27 to April 22, because of several cases of rabies in some nearby towns. Owners of dogs, as well as others, resident in town should be watchful for strange dogs that may stray here from other sections of the State, or be brought in by summer people. One so-called "mad dog" is a serious danger to residents in any quarter.

Complaints have come to the Board about uncollected waste during the winter months. The need for collection of wet waste in winter has increased in late years, owing to the fact that more residents are using oil burners. This change cuts out many stoves and furnaces in which waste can be burned. Some provision ought to be made for the collection of this material. Frozen ground makes it impossible to bury it, and it is not wise nor sanitary to litter up the backyard with it. The logical thing to do is to slightly increase the Sanitary appropriation at the Annual Meeting, say $200, such amount to be used at the discretion of the Selectmen for the collection of waste through the Fall and Winter months.

ALBERT ARMSTRONG,
Health Officer.

On account of the scarcity of funds in the early summer we had a loan of 50 books from the State Library which was greatly enjoyed by the people, and I also solicited and collected books from the citizens and had a very generous response, especially from Mrs. J. I. Milliken, of Ocean Park, Mrs. Lyman, of Philadelphia and Old Orchard Beach, from the late Mrs. Batterson's library, and many others.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH A. HOUSE,

Librarian.
