Come enjoy making monthly projects with friends at the Ballpark. Crafting lessens anxiety, reduces feelings of isolation and brings about a general sense of happiness. These activities also help battle depression. Simple activities and crafts contribute to the creation of dopamine, a natural anti-depressant within the body. Art additionally helps build confidence and gives a sense of purpose. Being able to complete a project helps people feel like they can accomplish things. This pastime can bring seniors together as it's never too late to form friendships. A small fee is needed to cover the cost of supplies because each craft day you will bring a project home!
